MUSIC socialized its precedent over all else this week in the recital by Harold Henry, pianist, at the Grand theater Friday night. Salem an encore was called out to hear this noted pianist make his debut to Salem, and much praise is to be given to the Salem Music bureau which is being efficiently managed by Mrs. William Everett Anderson. This bureau has immediately established itself as the exponent of the best in music and Salem folk are eager for the two remaining recitals which are booked for this winter.

Mr. Henry is a great pianist presenting his art in a most pleasing manner, and the audience last night which packed the house was most appreciative of his ability. Truly the best and biggest number on his program was the Ravel piece, "Valley of the Belles." One number much appreciated, and very characteristic was the one of his own compositions, "The Dance of the Mariposa." At a whole, the program was as fine as ever—but none the less excellent, and the audience was loathe to leave without more from this pianist.

Mr. Henry was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown during his three days stay in Salem and was the honor guest at several social functions. Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., entertained a small company of friends Thursday at luncheon to meet him as he was leaving for his morning flight. Mr. Henry left this morning for San Francisco where he gives a recital tomorrow night.

MRS. A. N. BUSH was hostess for a luncheon Monday. A high class of exclusive appointments, honoring a group of friends from Portland, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Elliott Corbett, Mrs. Lee Hoffman and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger who motored down to Monmouth to inspect the dormitory at the school, and who came over to Salem Sunday afternoon. Large fluffy chrysanthemums in lavender were used for the table centerpiece and other appointments were in harmony. Plates were set for Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Elliott Corbett, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Gerlinger, Miss Jesse Todd of Monmouth, Miss Cornelia Marvin, Miss Frances M. Richards and Mrs. Bush.

Motoring back Sunday afternoon from Monmouth Miss Marvin entertained Mrs. Bush and her guests for tea.

THE Salem club of International Rotary will be host for one of the largest of the social assemblies which have taken place in this month. It will be a dinner dance at the Marion hotel. The full Rotary program will be given during the banquet and following and the party will close with the dancing. One long table will be set for the ten officers and the remaining guests will be seated at tables for four scattered about the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Pike of Portland will be among the out of town guests. Mrs. Pike was instrumental in the organization of the Salem club.

HAROLD HENRY, pianist who has been a distinguished visitor in the city during this week coming here for his recital last night, was the honor guest at a dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown gave at their State street home Friday night, having covers for twelve. The center piece was fashioned of violets, baby roses, small pompon chrysanthemums and all pastel shades of primroses intermingled with maidenhair fern and held in a low oblong ivory basket. The blossoms were arranged to come up over the handle of the basket with bows of blue, pink and lavender tulle mingled with small bunches of the flowers.
